RECEPTION FOR NEW MONTVILLE PASTOR

Held at Montville Union Baptist Church with Many in Attendance.

A reception was tendered Rev. W. H. Lakin, who was recently called to the pastorate of the Montville Union Baptist church and his family on Monday evening. All who are in any way interested in the church and its welfare were invited to be present and there was a good sized attendance.

Receiving with the pastor and family were Mrs. Ray Woodmansee, president of the Ladies Aid society and the vice president, Mrs. Thomas Church and Mrs. Melvin Furber.

At 8:30 a program which had been prepared by Ray Woodmansee and Mrs. Walter Jeffers was given and was much appreciated. Each number being offered. The opening number was an inspiring piano duet by Misses May Turner and Marian Henry; a vocal solo, Just Because, was given by Mrs. James Church of Ohio. This was followed by a humorous reading, A Kiss in School, by Miss Mary Keegan, also of Ohio. A vocal duet, Life's Dream is Over, was well rendered by Misses Carrie and Elsie Wood. Miss Henrietta B. Griddle, always a favorite, gave a selection from The Pled Piper of Hamelin and responded with an encore that convulsed her audience. The closing number was a piano solo by Miss Maude Bennett. The accompanists of the evening were Miss May Church and Miss Marian Henry. After singing Hail to the Tie That Binds by the audience a social hour ensued when cake and cream was served.

His scapegoat brother paid a visit to the house and was just about to carry off the family silver when caught by Chimmie. Chimmie allowed Larry to escape and was blamed for the theft through circumstantial evidence. Larry confessed the theft and Chimmie was reinstated in the household. ## HIGH SCORER FOR BREAD MAKING

Mrs. Howard Palmer Was Given First Place at Extension School at Preston City—Attendance of Men and Women Grows Larger Each Day—Those Present Satisfied With the Practical Value of Instruction Given.

In the home makers' course of the extension school at Preston City, one of the particularly interesting features on Thursday afternoon was the bread scoring contest, which had four entries to pass the judgment of Karl B. Musser of Storrs college, whose task it was to place the marking. When he had looked over all four specimens and decided upon their percentage of good points, the decision for first prize went to Mrs. Howard Palmer of Preston, with second place to the bread entered by Miss Maud E. Hayes of Storrs, who is the instructor in the home makers' courses.

Thursday was the day of the school, which is conducted under the auspices of the Connecticut Agricultural college extension service and is the first of its kind tried in this state. The experience so far has been to the highest degree gratifying to those in charge of the school, both in the agricultural side for the men and the home makers' department for the women, as there have been constantly increasing attendances from day to day and it has been noted that those who came one day were pretty sure to come back the next to follow up what they had been interested and instructed in the day before.

Mr. Musser opened the home makers' course on Thursday morning at 9 o'clock with a lecture on care of the milk in the home. The food value of milk was shown to be worth at the present price of food commodities, 20 cents a quart. Mr. Musser said he believed that the family in the city today, if living the cheapest, would incorporate the largest amount of milk in the day's menu. He said that to be due to the excellent balance of body needs contained in the milk as in high caloric value. Some of the useful household milky products were shown, and those that have unsanitary covers were used to demonstrate the liability in spreading disease by unsanitary utensils.

Following Mr. Musser, Miss Maude E. Hayes gave a two hours' demonstration on milk and cheese dishes. Among the dishes cooked were corn chowder and cheese sauce. The cheese was served on cold rice from Wednesday's lesson and made a very attractive dish. Cold cabbage also from Wednesday's lesson was escalloped and pronounced a success.

At 1 o'clock Mrs. Hayes gave a lecture on the feeding of children which was followed by a demonstration on eggs and sample meals for children.

On the part of the school devoted to agriculture the day opened with an hour's lecture by Roy Jones upon poultry diseases. He emphasized the fact that the successful treatment of poultry diseases depends largely on removing the cause and that the birds having recovered from disease, had lost their value as laying stock to breed from. One of the best means of prevention is the burning of all dead birds and the use of permanganate of potash in the drinking water as a disinfectant. He covered colds, rous, canker, chicken pox, crop bound, fowl cholera, worms, gapes, lice, mites and bacillia, white cholera, diarrhoea.

Benjamin G. Southwick followed this with a lecture upon the economic use of fertilizers. He showed first the effects of nitrogen, available phosphoric acid and potash on the growth. He gave as some of the advantages of home mixing of chemicals first making one study his fertilizer problem, second, source of material used; third, more chance to vary the fertilizer mixture to meet individual needs, and fourth, plant food usually costs less. Then he gave some of the advantages of ready mixtures, first using uniform mixtures, second, usually better mechanical conditions, third, they are in any amount desired, and fourth, they are no bother to farmers. He gave some very valuable hints on home mixing and how to buy commercial fertilizers.

The marketing of poultry products was a subject treated in a practical way by Mr. Jones and Mr. Southwick spoke upon many subjects of interest, especially non-legumes.

The last lecture of the day was by Mr. Musser, who occupied the last hour in calculating dairy rations and balanced rations for cows. Each farmer brought a quart of his own grain mixture and Mr. Musser showed how to work with paper and pencil to do some figuring to show just how much it was costing him and what value he was getting from it as a balanced ration.

Friday Programs.

The programme for Friday on the agricultural side will be as follows:
 9 a. m.—Lecture Crops, Mr. Southwick.
 10 a. m.—11 a. m.—Keeping Records of Dairy Cows, Mr. Musser. Each farmer bring small bag of mixed feed, containing at least four grains and statement of contents. Bags of hay, 2 p. m.—Crops for Dairy Farmers, Mr. Southwick.
 2 p. m.—Poultry Diseases, Mr. Jones.
 3 p. m.—Killing, Picking and Drawing Poultry, Mr. Jones.
 In the home makers' course it will be as follows: 9-10 a. m., Poultry, Mr. Jones; 10-11 a. m., demonstrations, Mrs. Hayes; 1-2 p. m., The Well Planned Kitchen; 2-3 p. m., Round Table.

Dinners have been served each day from 12 to 1, A. D. Zabriskie having charge of these arrangements.

BEER FOUND ITS WAY INTO THE SEWER
 Wet Goods Seized in Raid Where Destroyed by Order of Court.

All the liquor that was seized at the recent raid at the Club place on North Main street has been destroyed by an order passed in the city court early this week. There were two full kegs of beer and one of stout, one, besides a case or two of bottled beer. This was all taken out to the curb one night this week and allowed to trickle away into the gutter.

Sergeant A. C. Matthews, who was the officer at the head of the raiding party, was the one delegated to see that the court order was carried out as to the destruction of the wet goods. There now remains at the police station a fine collection of "dead ones" as souvenirs of the raid.

AT DAVIS THEATER.

Three vaudeville acts that made a topline attraction were on the bill at the Davis theater on Thursday to run for the rest of the week. Heading the bill was the famous troupe of rebats, five men who kept their audiences wondering at their marvelous and thrilling work that was done with great realism and precision. An apparent ease for the most difficult feats. A novelty act was that presented by the Belmonts, who introduced a lot of novelty in their act. Two vaudeville features the whistling by Mr. Belmont and the flock of trained canaries that join in the vocalization. George Hall, monologist, filled in an acceptable place on the bill also with his comedy and songs.

The big feature in the picture line was the five reel film, The Red Ward, in which the stars are Frank Keenan and Charles Ray. The comedy side of the picture bill was taken care of by a Keystone called Fiddle Fatsy Fall.

Loyal Circle Relects.
 Loyal Circle of King's Daughters held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Herbert B. Kind of Oak street, hearing reports presented that showed the past year had been an active one and a gratifying amount of work had been accomplished.

The officers were reelected as follows: Leader, Mrs. J. A. Wheeler; vice leader, Mrs. N. Eugene Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Archibald Torrance; secretary, Mrs. George E. Zimmerman; chairman of sympathy committee, Mrs. Herbert B. Kind. The work to be done during the coming year was discussed and decided upon.
